

NOWHERE

Blueflower Skye

He's cruisin'
Their song's playin' on the radio
He's aimin'
To get as far away as he can go
Can't remember what went wrong
In an instant she was gone

He lost her
And now he's cruisin' down that dusty road
To nowhere
To nowhere
To nowhere

Just yesterday
Cryin' to their song on the radio
She wonders
If he knew how much she loved him so
Can't forget three words he said
Feels his presence in the wind

She lost him
And now she wanders down that dusty road
To nowhere
To nowhere
To nowhere

There's a time when he'll get
To that sunset in the west
But without her
He just don't care

Lightnin' strikin' to the left
Races back to where they met
And he waits there
For her, he'll wait there

And the day that she sees him
He'll know her time has come
He'll pull over to the shoulder
And she'll jump back in that shotgun seat

And years go by
But for his true love, time stands still
In her mind
She can't let go, she never will
'Til the day her soul is free
He'll pass her but she still don't see

So he's cruisin'
Down that never ending dusty road
To nowhere
To nowhere
To nowhere

To nowhere
To nowhere
To nowhere
